

A detailed black and white line drawing of a small bird, possibly a chickadee, perched on a branch with several leaves. The bird is facing left, with its head slightly turned. It has a dark cap, a small beak, and a white breast with dark spots. The branch it sits on has several pointed leaves. The background is plain white.